

The Easter Bunny has decided to make pancakes for breakfast. He has all of the ingredients ready but can't find anything to cook them in – can you help him?

A frying pan – great idea! The pancakes are ready (YUM!) and the Easter Bunny is sitting down to enjoy his breakfast feast...but wait! He doesn't have any toppings for his pancakes – can you help him?

Syrup – excellent choice! The Easter Bunny now has a full belly & he's ready to head out on some adventures. He needs to brush his teeth first though. He's got his toothbrush ready but can't find anything to put on his toothbrush. Can you help him?

Toothpaste – thanks! Aww...fresh bunny breath! The Easter Bunny looked in the mirror and is embarrassed by his messy fur. Can you help him find his "hare" brush?

Thanks! He's perfectly groomed and ready to go! He's going to make a trip to the store to pick up a few more items for Easter dinner. He's decided to take his bike to the store but he can't find his safety gear – can you help him?

A helmet – great! He's got his bike & helmet and now he's off to the store. He returns home a little while later with his Easter dinner groceries. Where should he keep his ice cream desserts?

Brr! It's cold here in the freezer! He has decided to make place cards for everyone at the dinner table. He has paper but doesn't have anything colorful to use to write each person's name. Can you help him?

Markers – this is perfect! He now has all of the names written on each of the place cards but the place cards still seem to be missing something. Can you find him something to stick on the place cards to decorate them?

Stickers – great idea! He wants to check that his dinner outfit is clean and ready for the party. Where would he keep his outfit?

The closet – of course! It looks like the Easter Bunny is ready for holiday fun! Thanks for helping!
