

BABY SHOWER WORD GAME

Split your guests into two teams and each team takes a turn choosing one player to select a card. Team A's selected player for this round randomly selects a card. That person must get their team to guess the word in blue without saying any of the words in pink. As an example, look at this first card. The player must get their team to say "Diaper" without saying "Pampers", "Huggies", "Poop", "Pee" or "Change". So you could say "This is something the baby wears every day" or "Something stinky".

One player from the opposite team must watch over the "reader's" shoulder to make sure they don't say any of the words in the pink section. If their team guesses the right answer within 10 seconds, they win a prize. The 10 second countdown starts once the reader has finished giving the clue. If Team A doesn't guess the correct answer, Team B gets one chance to guess the right answer. Why only 10 seconds? The short time limit gets guests shouting out funny answers to try to beat the clock. If guests have too much time to guess, they'd likely get every answer right and you want to keep them on their toes!

For this Baby Shower Word Game, keep in mind that you can't say variations of the secret word itself. For example, if the secret word is "Car Seat" you can't say either "Car" or "Seat". Also, if one of the pink words is "Play" you can't use other variations of the word like "Playing" or "Played" or "Player".
