How to play: Since some of the charades are so easy to guess, give each player 1 minute to act out as many charades as her team can guess correctly. For example, have the "actor" select one charade and quickly act it out. As soon as her team guesses the correct answer, she grabs another random charade and starts to act that one out. The goal is to get your team to guess as many charades within that one minute as possible.
